

Victory, the Gold

- a spirit song for field or pep band -

Special Note to schools: The copyright to this work is available for sale to the regents of any school in search of a new proprietary spirit song at which time the score and parts for the music would be withdrawn from the marketplace and retired from the Buckthorn Music Press catalog (if desired). Beyond that, and in addition, customized school lyrics can be crafted by the composer for any patron while the piece is owned by Buckthorn Music Press - call for details and pricing.

about the composer

Lynn Job (pronounced with a long “o”) (b. 1959 -) is an awarded composer, poet & thespian born on the great plains of South Dakota. Dr. Job graduated from the University of North Texas College of Music and California State University Fullerton, served during the Persian Gulf War (1991), and is often seen at arts festivals and scholastic conferences. She holds memberships and offices in many professional arts organizations. Her entire completed works catalog (and much more) is available at www.buckthornstudios.com, and, at newmusicjukebox.org (a searchable database resource maintained for her by the American Music Center, New York).

■ Obtain licenses and permissions and report performances of this work by writing to: info@buckthornstudios.com, or, through the information provided on the web site: www.buckthornstudios.com

Level: high school/college

Music Engraving by Buckthorn Studios

printed in the United States of America

Victory, the Gold for band | first edition

© Copyright 2004 by Lynn Job, DMA (ASCAP) | All rights reserved.

Purchase from Buckthorn Music Press, a division of BUCKTHORN STUDIOS (SM) | buckthornstudios.com

U.S. dollars $8.00 (catalog item no. 84)